

2 min Host

Online Learning

Host on screen -- walk and talk

Hey. We know what you're thinking.

Is online learning really right for me? I mean, is it REALLY as good as being in a classroom?

Well, yes but the proof is in the...academic pudding...so to speak. So let's check it out.

Graphic/motion graphics (Show pictures of alumni)

This guy – Manager at UP – Yep, online degree from Bellevue University

This woman – Earned her degree from us, totally online – owns her own business.

Don't even get me started on him – He's the head of finance at Mutual. His Bellevue University degree – Online.

Host on screen -- walk and talk

When it comes to putting an online degree on your resume, employers just want to make sure the degree is legit, meaning from an accredited institution. At Bellevue University, not only are we accredited, but we're more than just a college, we're a 4-year university.

Switch locations

Plus, we've sat with employers worldwide and asked them what they're looking for.

You'll walk away with relevant and on-demand skills to confidently kill it in your interview -- or get that sweet promotion.

We're also private and nonprofit, which means our success, depends on yours.

Student walks by and high-fives host as he says "depends on yours."

Switch locations

In the growing digital age, online learning has become commonplace. But at Bellevue University, we've been doing it for so long, it's alreadykind of our thing.

Other colleges are just now starting to embrace the concept...while we've already refined it and are constantly taking it to the next level.

We have 24/7 tech support on stand-by, a personally assigned student coach to help guide you, and faculty who know the ropes of online learning -- so your questions won't go unanswered, and you won't feel alone.

Attend class in a coffee shop, while traveling, or from the comfort of your home.

Graphic/motion graphics

And get this -- You'll be able to network with other students on a global scale. Yeah -- cause you'll be online.

Host on screen -- walk and talk

Online learning isn't for people who are looking for the easy way, it's for people who work hard, have crazy busy lives, and are determined to get ahead.

People with online degrees from Bellevue University aren't second-guessing their learning, because they're too busy accomplishing their dreams.

Contact us today and learn more about our online degrees. We can't wait to see what you do.

Show number and website

<No Standard Close>